

After the prelude to the last Presidential election, where every major media outlet bashed Gore and praised Bush, it is apparent to anyone with a brain that the media is in bed with Republican Corporations already!!!! We certainly don't need further consolidation of Media Power, It stinks already. I despise the outright lies being spread about Democrats and the total lack of interest shown by the media in the Attrocity known as the Bush Dynasty!! We have had our Election stolen, our protests segregated to "free speech" zones miles from those we are protesting. We receive zero coverage of our efforts, so essentially we have lost our free speech also. Now we are having idiotic tax cuts for the rich contributors of Jr. Bush at the expense of those least able to afford it. I've had it with the "compassionate bullshit" from the right wing. I'm not stupid, I know what is going on, and the end result will be the total devistation of America as we know it! Wise up and defeat this abomination before we become Nazi Germany in 2001.
